with Dr. Maya Soetoro-Ng, M.A., Ph.D. and Dr. Kerrie Urosevich, M.A., Ph.D.

Planting the Critical Cs of Peacebuilding ...at Home, in School, and in Our Communities

Critical Thinking    Courage    Conflict Resolution    Compassion Collaboration    Commitment    Community

Overview: Seeds of Peace workshops provide a 360° approach to raising peacebuilders, transforming communities by creating safe and thriving homes and schools. Workshops bring together teachers, administrators, families, and community members to gain skills in supporting children and youth to be leaders in effective peacebuilding. Peacebuilders possess the critical “c”eeds necessary to tackle our communities’ most challenging issues. Come ready to learn and be inspired to bring peace into your home, school, workplace, practice, or any environment in which you interact with children and youth.

Takeaways: Participants will leave the workshop series with Peace Action Plans for their homes, schools, classrooms, or programs. Morning sessions will offer interactive panel discussions with national and local leaders in peacebuilding. Afternoon sessions will allow participants to work in small groups to create their Action Plans. These plans may include: Civic Action Plans, Family / ‘Ohana Plans, Safe School Plans, Family-School Partnership Plans, or Integrated Curriculum Plans, among others.
